JENSENplus

The series of furniture by JENSENplus is based on the functionality and quality required when producing furniture for professional use, but with design and aesthetics created for also modern private homes. All designs have integrated experience and a strong attitude. It may be their functionality, their materials or both.

“We work to diversify from the conventional way of thinking design,” says Jeanette Omann, owner of JENSENplus. “Life is not so square and our customers’ demand for great design, top functionality and exquisite materials are the same - whether they are in the office or in their living room. Therefore, it is obvious to combine the best of two worlds in clear, functional designs that can be used in the professional as well as the private room”.

“Our focus is not production but the individual product. Therefore, our products are created with the best materials – steel, cork, linoleum, concrete, wood and leather - because these are durable materials that live and breathe for many years”, says Jeanette Omann.
