

K2 TANK

by Friis & Moltke

MIKKEL BAHR, FRIIS & MOLTKE

Friis & Moltke is a modern drawing studio, which was founded in 1954 and has been among the leading Danish architectural firms .

Mikke Bahr is a partner of Friis & Moltke, and responsible for the design department.

The studios results are created through cooperation , both with clients and partners , and internally at design studios , with a sensible balance between function, aesthetics and economy - added a good dose of originality.

DESCRIPTION

K2 Tank is the new storage range, presenting exciting personal features as OSB and power supply. The personal cupboard is placed on the sides, and therefore has a handle-free side-opening. The door is elegantly opened by pulling in the top of the front. Opened, the cupboard has no top-shelf, as this is proven to make the user leave papers on the top. As a result, the cupboard will not always be closed at the end of working-day, leaving a visual messy expression in open space...
